Dear Mr. Gottesman:

I write on behalf of Cause of Action Institute (CoA Institute”), a nonprofit strategic oversight group committed to ensuring that government decision-making is open, honest, and fair.¹ In carrying out its mission, CoA Institute uses various investigative and legal tools to educate the public about the importance of government transparency and accountability. To that end, we are examining the steps taken by the Environmental Protection Agency (“EPA”) in implementing Section 321 of the Clean Air Act, 42 U.S.C. § 7621 (“CAA”), Section 507(e) of the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. § 1367(e) (“CWA”), Section 110(e) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act, 42 U.S.C. 9610(e) (“CERCLA”), and Section 7001(e) of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, 42 U.S.C. § 6971(e) (“RCRA”).

Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552 (“FOIA”), CoA Institute hereby requests access to the following records for the time period January 1, 2006 to the present:²

1. All records reflecting EPA’s efforts to “conduct continuing evaluations of potential loss or shifts of employment which may result from the administration or enforcement of [the CAA].” 42 U.S.C. § 7621(a).

² For purposes of this request, the term “present” should be construed as the date on which the agency begins its search for responsive records. See Pub. Citizen v. Dep’t of State, 276 F.3d 634 (D.C. Cir. 2002). The term “record” means the entirety of the record any portion of which contains responsive information. See Am. Immigration Lawyers Ass’n v. Exec. Office for Immigration Review, No. 15-5201, 2016 WL 4056405, at *7-9 (D.C. Cir. July 29, 2016) (admonishing agency for withholding information as “non-responsive” because “nothing in the statute suggests that the agency may parse a responsive record to redact specific information within it even if none of the statutory exemptions shields that information from disclosure”).

2. All records reflecting requests for investigation, hearings, and/or any other action taken pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 7621(b).
3. All records reflecting EPA's efforts to evaluate potential loss or shifts of employment resulting from the issuance of any effluent limitation or order by the EPA and, if requested, investigate specific allegations related to adverse effects of CWA limitations or orders. 33 U.S.C. § 1367(e).
4. All records reflecting actions taken by EPA to evaluate potential loss or shifts of employment due to EPA action under RCRA and, if requested, investigate specific allegations that administration or enforcement of RCRA is having adverse effects on employment. 42 U.S.C. § 6971(e).
5. All records reflecting actions taken by EPA to evaluate potential loss or shifts of employment resulting from the administration or enforcement of the Act's provisions and, if requested, to investigate specific employee allegations related to adverse effects of CERCLA administration or enforcement. 42 U.S.C. § 9610(e).
6. All records regarding the process by which to request investigations or hearings under the CAA (42 U.S.C. § 7621(b)), the RCRA (42 U.S.C. § 6971(e)) and/or CERCLA (42 U.S.C. § 9610(e)).

Request for a Public Interest Fee Waiver

CoA Institute requests a waiver of any and all applicable fees. FOIA and applicable regulations provide that the agency shall furnish requested records without or at reduced charge if "disclosure of the information is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations or activities of the government and is not primarily in the commercial interest of the requester."³ In this case, EPA may be abdicating its responsibility to both account for and investigate the loss of employment suffered by many U.S. citizens as a result of EPA actions and regulations. This significantly affects the public interest, as it impacts the ability of Americans to earn a living and pursue their chosen career. The public needs to know if the EPA is fulfilling its statutory mandates in this area.

CoA Institute has both the intent and ability to make the results of this request available to a reasonably broad public audience through various media. Its staff has significant experience and expertise in government oversight, investigative reporting, and federal public interest litigation. These professionals will analyze the information responsive to this request, use their editorial skills to turn raw materials into a distinct work, and share the resulting analysis with the public, whether through the Institute's regularly published online newsletter, memoranda, reports, or press releases.⁴ In addition, as CoA Institute is a non-profit organization as defined under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, it has no commercial interest in making this request.

⁴ See also Cause of Action, 799 F.3d at 1125-26 (holding that public interest advocacy organizations may partner with others to disseminate their work).

Request To Be Classified as a Representative of the News Media

For fee status purposes, CoA Institute also qualifies as a “representative of the news media” under FOIA.⁵ As the D.C. Circuit recently held, the “representative of the news media” test is properly focused on the requestor, not the specific FOIA request at issue.⁶ CoA Institute satisfies this test because it gathers information of potential interest to a segment of the public, uses its editorial skills to turn raw materials into a distinct work, and distributes that work to an audience. Although it is not required by the statute, CoA Institute gathers the news it regularly publishes from a variety of sources, including FOIA requests, whistleblowers/insiders, and scholarly works. It does not merely make raw information available to the public, but rather distributes distinct work products, including articles, blog posts, investigative reports, newsletters, and congressional testimony and statements for the record.⁷ These distinct works are distributed to the public through various media, including the Institute’s website, Twitter, and Facebook. CoA Institute also provides news updates to subscribers via e-mail.

The statutory definition of a “representative of the news media” contemplates that organizations such as CoA Institute, which electronically disseminate information and publications via “alternative media[,] shall be considered to be news-media entities.”⁸ In light of the foregoing, numerous federal agencies have appropriately recognized the Institute’s news media status in connection with its FOIA requests.⁹

Record Preservation Requirement

CoA Institute requests that the disclosure officer responsible for the processing of this request issue an immediate hold on all records responsive, or potentially responsive, to this request, so as to prevent their disposal until such time as a final determination has been issued on the request and any administrative remedies for appeal have been exhausted. It is unlawful for an agency to destroy or dispose of any record subject to a FOIA request.¹⁰

Record Production and Contact Information

In an effort to facilitate document review, please provide the responsive documents in electronic form in lieu of a paper production. If a certain portion of responsive records can be produced more readily, CoA Institute requests that those records be produced first and the remaining records be produced on a rolling basis as circumstances permit.

If you have any questions about this request, please contact me by telephone at (202) 499-4232 or by e-mail at eric.bolinder@causeofaction.org. Thank you for your attention to this matter.
